Reproduced on the following page is a letter from James Bruce Dyall and Jean (his third wife?). The letter, I believe, was mailed to HLRP— it was HLRP who wrote "Dyall" after the typed signature, and it was HLRP who performed the mathematical calculation & the right of the signatures on the letter.

Judging
↑From this letter, I would say that James Bruce Dyall had a wonderful sense of humour.